From the Director of Missions

During the next Executive Board meeting on February 24, the Missions Development Council will recommend that the association continue support for the Asian church plant, Grace International Fellowship Church. Northside Community Church will continue to provide its facilities for worship services. Proctors Chapel will provide use of its Family Life Center for basketball outreach and Nashville Baptist is providing a parsonage (rent free). Calvary Baptist of Rocky Mount will continue to give $50 per month and Red Oak, which has also been very supportive will be discussing continued participation. The Baptist State Convention of North Carolina is expected to provide $400 per month in financial support. The Missions Development Council will make the motion that the association continue support at the rate of $1000 per month for 6 months and then at a rate of $500 per month for an additional 6 months.

The Stoney Creek Cowboy Church has been meeting at the Rotary Club building on the Nashville—Red Oak Road on Monday nights for about 15 months. The cowboy church has a very committed core group of about 15 people that have a desire to minister and share the gospel with people that identify with the cowboy culture and would not respond to the ministry of a traditional church. Thus far 3 people have trusted Christ in about 18 association churches VBS programs that used the Saddle Ridge LifeWay materials this past summer.

Several association churches have made a commitment to provide monthly financial support for this new work. They are First Baptist, Rocky Mount ($400), Sunset Avenue ($400), Proctors Chapel ($100) and Macedonia ($50). The Cowboy Church pastor is Dr. Keith Griffin. He is also currently serving as pastor of Edgemont Church. Edgemont is also providing the use of its office equipment and supplies for Stoney Creek Cowboy Church and taking up a love offering for this ministry with a goal of providing $50 of monthly support. Pastor Griffin will be serving a two-church field as part-time pastor of Edgemont Church and the Stoney Creek Cowboy Church.

The Missions Development Council will be making the motion that the association also provide $350 per month for the Stoney Creek Cowboy Church. With this level of support from our association, the State Convention is expected to provide support in the amount of $700 per month. It is the goal of the Stoney Creek Cowboy Church to be able to fully support a part-time pastor in two years.
